Inclusionary Zoning

A PROGRAM FROM THE DC DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

What Is Inclusionary Zoning?

Inclusionary Zoning (IZ) is one of many affordable housing tools in the District of Columbia. It requires most new housing developments (or expansions) of 10+ units to include affordable units. In exchange, the developments can build larger buildings.

What Is “Affordable”?

Affordable housing prices are usually based on the “typical” household income in an area (the “Median Family Income” or “MFI”). IZ units are available for households earning less than 50%, 60%, or 80% of MFI. The rents or sale prices are set for those income levels.

Maximum IZ Rents (if all utilities and required fees are included)

	50% MFI	60% MFI	80% MFI
Studio	$1,140	$1,390	$1,840
1 Bedroom	$1,230	$1,480	$1,970
2 Bedroom	$1,480	$1,780	$2,360

Who is Eligible?

Anyone (except for full-time college or university students of any age) may register for the program. Priority is given to current DC residents first, then those that work in DC. Households must also meet the income & household size requirements for the unit, and you cannot own any other housing at the time you rent or buy an IZ unit.

What are the Income Requirements?

Minimum Income is $27,350 a year, (unless you have a voucher or other rental subsidy that can be brought to the IZ unit). The maximum incomes for the program are below. All pre-tax sources of income are counted.

Maximum Incomes for the IZ Program (80% MFI, highest income bracket)

Number of People	1	2	3	4	5
Income Limits	$85,200	$97,350	$109,500	$121,700	$133,850

How Can I Get an IZ Unit?

1. Attend the required IZ Orientation class (IZO).
2. Complete the online registration form.
3. Check your email regularly (1-2 times/week) and participate in the lotteries.

Get started at: dhcd.dc.gov (under “services” click Inclusionary Zoning Registration)

ABOUT Inclusionary Zoning Program

How Does an IZ Lottery Work?

When an IZ unit is available by lottery, all registered households that meet the income and household size requirements for the unit receive an email. To enter the lottery, the household must click on the link in the email to submit an entry. Usually, 10 households are randomly selected for each unit and will receive an email with next steps. Selected households that live in DC have priority, followed by those that work in DC. There is also a preference for those in the program the longest. There are no other priorities.

What Happens If I Rent or Buy an IZ Unit?

Rent- You must pay the pre-determined rent and continue to live in the unit as your primary residence and certify your household size and income each year. At lease renewal, households can earn up to 1.4 times the maximum income for the unit and still keep the IZ rate. If you need to move, the unit goes back to the IZ lottery system.

Buy- You must pay the pre-determined purchase price and continue to live in the unit as your primary residence. There is no restriction on your income or household size after the purchase. The unit belongs to you and you do earn equity, but the resale price will be limited so it is affordable to the next household. If you need to move, the unit goes back to the IZ lottery system.

Where can I take the required IZ Orientation Class?

Contact one of the Community Based Organizations below to register for the next class. If a class is full, ask about walk-in availability.

Emergency Housing

Emergency domestic violence (DV) housing programs offer a safe place for survivors and their children to escape to in a crisis situation. These housing programs are often different from what you might imagine a typical homeless shelter to look and feel like. The location of a DV housing program is usually kept confidential and residents are asked not to disclose the address to anyone, including friends and family. This means that residents can't have visitors, and they must be dropped off and picked up several blocks from the housing program. Typically these programs serve women and those who identify as women, although more and more programs are increasing their capacity to serve male victims as well.

Emergency DV housing programs are usually in home-like settings. Depending on the space, sometimes residents have their own room or they must share a room with another resident and possibly their children. Responsibilities like cleaning and meal preparation are shared. Typically the length of stay in emergency DV programs is 45 days; however, most programs are flexible depending on when a survivor secures transitional or permanent housing.

At emergency DV housing programs, advocates are on staff to support survivors and their families to obtain the information and resources they need to gain stability and heal from the abuse by providing the following support:

- Assistance obtaining important documents like: birth certificates, social security cards, driver's licenses, etc.
- Referrals for obtaining protection orders and legal assistance.
- Help applying for public assistance and housing subsidies.
- Referrals to mental health and addiction services.
- Assistance enrolling children in nearby schools.
- Counseling and support groups for women and their children.

There are limited DV safe housing options in DC. A survivor who requires safe, confidential housing might consider DV safe housing programs in Virginia and Maryland.

The Crime Victims Compensation program (CVC) at the DC Superior Court offers another emergency housing option for many survivors in DC. This program is particularly useful when DV housing programs are filled to capacity. The CVC assists DV survivors who applied for a protection order or filed a police report in DC to obtain emergency safe housing through the provision of a hotel voucher for a specific amount of time (usually 28 days).

To learn more about this option, and the other assistance the CVC offers victims, visit this page or call CVC at 202.879.4216.

Waiting List Frequently Asked Questions

What is the DC Housing Authority waitlist?

In the high-priced real estate market of Washington, D.C., thousands of families need help bridging the gap between low or moderate wages and the high cost of renting a home. The District of Columbia Housing Authority (DCHA) provides assistance to help families obtain safe, quality, and affordable housing through three types of assistance: Public Housing, Housing Choice Voucher Program, and Moderate Rehabilitation Program. To manage the great demand for these programs, DCHA maintains a waitlist.

My name is on the waitlist...

When will it reach the top?

Reaching the top of the waitlist depends on the available number of units and vouchers, when you applied, and any selection preferences you may have indicated on your application such as "homeless." Since household needs and preferences change, it is very difficult to predict when your name will reach the top. When it does, DCHA will contact you to schedule a final eligibility interview.

How can I update my information on the waitlist?

Please update your contact information, address, family composition, phone number, and more using this form. To remove your name from the waitlist, you may email updatewaitlist@dchousing.org.

I am now homeless. How can I change my housing status?

Please update your housing status using this form.

I speak Spanish and need to update my form in my native language, how can I get help?

Please complete this form or call 844-306-0531 and press 2 for Spanish.

How can I add my name to the waitlist?

The waitlist is currently closed to new applicants. At this time, DCHA is focused on updating information for those currently on the waitlist. This helps DCHA to match appropriately sized units to eligible heads of household on the current waitlist, reducing the amount of time to process applications and move families into their new homes.

I attended an eligibility interview but have not heard back. Who can I contact for an update?

Please email us at updatewaitlist@dchousing.org.

How can I confirm that you have my correct information?

Please call DCHA at 202-535-1000 to confirm your information is correct in our system.

I am experiencing homelessness. Can you house me?

District residents experiencing homelessness are encouraged to access emergency shelter through the Department of Human Services (DHS).

Families with minor children in their custody may access emergency shelter through the Virginia Williams Family Resource Center (VWFRC), the central intake office for all families in DC seeking assistance with their housing needs. VWFRC is located at 920 Rhode Island Avenue, NE, Washington DC, and is open Monday—Thursday from 8:30 am - 4 pm and Friday, 8:30 am - 12:00 pm. If you are a family seeking shelter outside of regular business hours, please call the Shelter Hotline at (202) 399-7093.

Individuals seeking shelter may call the Shelter Hotline at (202) 399-7093. The shelter hotline is open every day from 8 AM - 12 AM. During hypothermia season (November 1 - April 15), the shelter hotline is open 24 hours a day.

If you were not experiencing homelessness at the time of your DCHA application, please update your housing status using this form.
